

New online tool helping neighbors share gardens

Reported by: Emily Clark

Email: eclark@abc4.com

Last Update: 7/27 8:04 am

Print Story | ShareThis

SUGAR HOUSE, UT (ABC 4 News) - Neighbors are welcoming total strangers into their backyards to garden. A new online tool connects people looking for space to garden, with those who have extra land.

Wasatch Community Gardens and Urband Village Cooperative launched an online tool earlier this summer. It provides more gardening space for the community while connecting neighbors in a unique way. Sharing backyards is an interactive map that helps connect people with unused yard space with those looking for land to grow food locally. This resource will let people in Salt Lake, Davis, Summit, Cache, Weber, Tooele and Utah counties take advantage of underutilized land.

New friends and neighbors garden together
(Randy Kendell)

Check out the Sharing Backyard's website, here you can find people looking for space and anyone with extra space. If you would like to join, just follow the instructions listed on the page.

Copyright 2010 Newport Television LLC All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.